G. O. P. Leaders Winning Fight To Redeem State

Judge Henry Lamm, that distinguished jurist and fearless champion of Republicanism who heads the ticket that promises to redeem Missouri from Democratic misrule and swing the state back into the Republican column on the seventh of November, has surpassed the expectations of his most ardent admirers by the telling effect of the strenuous campaign he is making through the state. The masterly manner in which he is handling the issues of the campaign has aroused interest and enthusiasm and put new life into the cause of Republicanism throughout the state and filled the hearts of the Democratic candidates with consternation.

Judge Lamm is being greeted everywhere by large crowds and has made a most favorable impression on all classes of voters by his unanswerable arguments and the powerful searchlight of exposure he is turning upon the shameless extravagance and the wasteful and incompetent methods of the present Democratic administration. His thorough knowledge and mastery of state affairs mark him as an able and conscientious statesman. His rugged manly bearing and pleasing personality are driving home the conviction that he is a man with the courage of his convictions and a capable leader and is winning for him thousands of supporters among Democrats who are disgusted with the wasteful extravagance of their own party leaders.

Judge Lamm is a native of Ohio but has been a resident of Missouri for forty-seven years. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and practiced law in this state for 30 years. He served four years as prosecuting attorney of Pettis county and was for ten years a judge of the Missouri Supreme Court. His fame as a jurist extends far beyond the borders of his own state and is widely known and respected for the wisdom and fearless impartiality of his decisions.

One of the decisions written by Judge Lamm that marked him as an impartial jurist was that in which he ruled that the old soldiers of the Confederate Soldiers' Home, at Higginsville and at the Home for Union Veterans, at St. James, are not paupers, and are entitled to vote. Judge Lamm bears a spotless reputation and is respected by all who know him as a man of the highest character.

How to Treat the Editor.

At a recent convention a minister offered the following toast: "To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly. To save him from bankruptcy, advertise in his paper liberally. To save him from despair, send him every item of news of which you can get hold. To save him from profanity, write plainly on one side of the sheet and send in your contribution as early as possible. To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."

"KING COLE" LEADS

No more pleasurable sensation can be felt in an aeroplane ride than by an excursion in the new 1917 8-cylinder Cole the successor to the famous "Brown Clipper," driven by the owner, Mr. W. H. Hubbell.

In the lead, as usual, Mr. Hubbell has very appropriately "christened" his beautiful and copious car the "King Cole." Since the ordinary car does the ordinary thing one would not expect to find the same luxuries in a car of several years ago as in this commodious car superior in quality and in the minutest detail.

To take a ride in King Cole one comes out of the past into the present. So soft and velvety is the motion of the car springs (being long and flat) that they float their load rather than support it, the scientific balance of chassis absorbing all road shock instead of transmitting it to the passengers. Those desiring to see the city would find no greater pleasure than by securing the King Cole as Mr. Hubbell, the owner, is careful and painstaking and is able to point out all points of interest in the town, at the same time enjoying a luxurious ride.

Mr. Hubbell can be reached by calling Bell phone, East 2013, or Home phone, East 2293.

HANNIBAL, MISSOURI

On Friday evening last, the home of Prof. Martin Lewis was the scene of an elegant banquet spread by the Masons of Hannibal in honor of their District Grand Master, Mr. Allen R. Bohon. This is the second time Mr. Bohon has been appointed District Grand Master of Masons of the fifth district of Missouri, and in token of their appreciation and encouragement of his efforts, Master Masons assembled at the festal board, to do him honor.

The entire house was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a prettier scene as met the eyes of the Masons as they filed into the dining hall, to the sweet strains of music, has never been had in Hannibal. The table was laden with flowers and insignia of the order, much to the credit of Mrs. Lewis and the other wives of Masons who served the banquet. A five course luncheon was served, after which speeches were indulged in to a late hour.

The spirit of unity of Masons and the upbuilding and perpetuation of its virtues and principles together with the highest praise for the great work done by Mr. Bohon, was the keynote of all the speeches, and every one departed with the inspiration and determination to do more for Masonry in Hannibal than ever before. This banquet points out a new step for Masons in Hannibal which will be productive of great good for the order.

Among those present were: Messrs. J. T. Brown, Arch Harris, Wm. Flannigan, Jesse Thurston, A. C. Macklin, Fred McKinney, C. R. McDowell, Martin Lewis, Harry Barnes, Barn Laken, Jas. Stevens and Allen Bohon.

WALTER S. DICKEY.

To whom Indications Point as the Next Senator for this District.

Walter S. Dickey, the Republican candidate for United States senator from Missouri, is matchless as a political leader and organizer and in his present campaign, by his masterful tactics has won from his friends the title of "the Mark Hanna of Missouri." Mr. Dickey has been a conspicuous and able leader in the Republican party of Missouri for 30 years but has never sought for himself, political preferment of any kind and never offensively dictated to those who were placed in power by his efforts. He came to Missouri in 1885 and at once identified himself with the Republican party of Kansas City. His ability as an able organizer was recognized a year later, by his election to membership of the Republican City Committee. In 1900 he was made chairman of the Jackson County Republican Committee, and under his efficient management the party that year won its first victory in 27 years. In 1904 he directed the campaign in Kansas City which resulted in the election of a Republican mayor and council. Later in the same year, as chairman of the executive committee of the Republican State Committee he aided in giving the electoral vote of Missouri to Theodore Roosevelt, which was a most surprising achievement.

In 1908, he accomplished a still more surprising result as Republican state chairman, by delivering the electoral vote of Missouri to Wm. H. Taft and elected Herbert S. Hadley, the first Republican governor of Missouri in forty years. During this campaign Mr. Dickey removed to St. Louis, to establish more effective headquarters, leaving his family and large business interests in Kansas City for five months and devoting his entire energy to the cause for party success.

His matchless energy and ability as an organizer which have enabled him to lead the party to success in so many campaigns are again being demonstrated and are sure to result in bringing to the polls at the November election the full strength of the party vote and certain victory to the cause of Republicanism, by the election of the entire ticket.

Personally Mr. Dickey is genial, approachable, and democratic. He is clean handed and all his processes have endured all the tests of public scrutiny. He is sympathetic and generous and the needs and interests of his fellow men have a large place in his mind and heart. It is the possession of these qualities that have enabled him to rise from the humble post of a clerk to the presidency of a business concern which operates 23 plants in eleven different states.
